

Dear fellow medical students,

It's an honor to present to you, for the third time in a row

SUMMER SCHOOL 'HEALTH AND MIGRATION'–2013

Organized and carried out by a team of enthusiastic medical students from the University of Ghent, this is a 'must' on your to-do list for next summer!

Apart from improving your knowledge on topics such as import pathologies, global and cross-border health care, human rights such as universal access to health, socio-economical influence on health and political and economic influences on health care and health care organization, you will be able to expand your cultural baggage and try your social skills with the other attending students coming from different countries and different cultural backgrounds.

This ten-day course and once-in-a-lifetime-experience will provide you with:

- ≈ knowledge on topics related to migration and migrant health...
- ≈ a local insight into the City of Ghent, a vibrant, yet cosy university town praised by 'Lonely Planet' as Belgium best kept secret...
- ≈ fun evening and outdoor activities and visits to other Belgian cities.....
- ≈ good food and Belgian beers.

Hope to see you in Ghent next summer!

For more information and application visit www.summerschool.ugent.be or send an email to summerschool.medicine@ugent.be

Date	10-19 th July 2013
Number of participants	Limited to 25 students
Deadline for application	1 st April 2013
Registration fee
*Early registration, before 1 st March 2013	400 €
*Registration as from 1 st March 2013	415 €