

ERIH Initial List: Classical Studies (2007)

European Reference Index for the Humanities (ERIH) is a project jointly sponsored by ESF and the European Commission ERA-Net project "Humanities in the European Research Area" (HERA) (Contract no.: ERAC-CT-2005-0161179). It comes under work-package 7 (Research Infrastructures).

The ERIH lists will help identify excellence in Humanities scholarship and should prove useful for the aggregate benchmarking of national research systems, for example, in determining the international standing of the research activity carried out in a given field in a particular country.

As they stand, the lists are not a bibliometric tool. The ERIH Steering Committee and the Expert Panels therefore advise against using the lists as the only basis for assessment of individual candidates for positions or promotions or of applicants for research grants.

Expert Panel Scope Note: Classical studies cover the study of the linguistic, literary, political, social, economic, religious, and cultural history of the Greek and Roman world, for which flexible and continually changing borders are accepted. Chronologically, Classical Studies begin with the first appearance of written texts (Linear B tablets, c. 14th century BC) and end with the 7th century A.D. The reception of classical culture and texts is also included. Disciplines included are Classical philology (Greek and Latin literature and language), ancient history, ancient topography, ancient law, Greek and Roman religion, epigraphy and papyrology.

Journals that publish exclusively articles dedicated to material culture, its interpretation, and the publication of objects of material culture, are left to the Archaeology and Art History Panels. Included are a selection of archaeological journals that regularly publish articles of a general interest for Classical studies as defined above. Some overlap occurs with the panels for Archaeology, History (BY - Byzantine studies), Philosophy and Linguistics. Most of Byzantine studies is covered by the History panel.
