“Injury and Violence Prevention - Global Perspectives”

20-22 May 2020

The 4th Thematic Symposium in Injury and Violence prevention will be hosted by Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University in Georgia on 20 - 23 May 2020.

Traumatic injuries and violence are a leading cause of death and disability for all ages, and there is great opportunity to reduce this individual and social burden. This event will provide an occasion to discuss Violence and Injury Prevention (VIP) issues not only from national but also from international perspectives and to reflect on how different institutions from different sectors can collaborate for future improvement in the VIP and society benefit. Symposium and Workshops may be of interest to anyone with responsibilities and interest in VIP. Symposium and workshops will provide an opportunity for physicians, public health professionals, researchers, academics, students, managers and other stakeholders to advance their knowledge and skills in Global Road Traffic Safety.
