University Organization

A High-Caliber School Moving Seoul with Its Passion

Befitting its prominent role in Korean society, Hanyang University is also a leading educational institution in Seoul, the nation's capital and political and economic center. Conveniently reached by public transportation, Hanyang University's campus also offers awe-inspiring views and serves as an attractive open space not only for students, faculty and staff, but also area residents.

Two Specialized Campuses Shaped by Passion

Hanyang University has two campuses: the Seoul Campus, which specializes in fostering talented people and developing practical studies through academic convergence, and the ERICA (Education Research Industry Cluster at Ansan) Campus, a leading academia-research-industry cluster. The ERICA Campus is the first university campus in Korea to bring together members of the academic, research, and industrial sectors to collaborate on projects aimed at creating high added-value industries.
